Indeed, it was they and not the in-raders who were putting up the show. There was an intense and farreaching carching of the skies in all directions.

carehing of the skies in all directions, the flashes of bursting missiles showing brightly, notwithstanding the brilliance of a full moon.

One invader was driven from London by the guns of the fleet. Another was teen over the Thames extuary. It was hearded in by shellfire and wriggled for half an hour trying for an exit from a triangle of bursting shells. It limits the seaped seaward.

Half a dozen bombs were dropped in a suburban district without casualties or important damage. One of the bombs narrowly missed striking a hospital.

Reprisals Are Urged

The newspapers, while commending the vigor of the defences, atill call for other measures, and advocate reprisals on German towns. They insist on this point with even greater vehemence.

"The Times" contends that it would be absurd to suppose that the problem of successful defence had been solved. It points out that the intense gunfree is only a partial deterrent and warns that air warfare is capable of infinite expansion and that new methods will have to be found to combat it. "The Times" advocates a great air fleet capable of carrying the war into Germany.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 1.—The great Liberty Loan drive started to-day throughout the country with a rush.

London Air Raiders Safe, turned unharmed.

The announcement says:

Our airmen again dropped bombs upon military buildings and warehouses in inner London. Numerous fires showed that this attack was particularly effective. Other airplanes successfully attacked Margate and Dover.

"All our machines returned unharmed."

Fings were flown, whistles were blown, acres of billboards blossomed into red, white and blue posters, and thousands of workers started the campaign with enthusiasm from New England to California.

Towns and cities from coast to coast welcomed the beginning of the coast.

Including last night's raid on Lon- enthusis don, there have been six German acroplane attacks on England within the last eight days, all but two of which reached the capital. Almost perfect moonlight has favored the raiders during the last week and the total casualities for the seven-day neriod are large. On the evening of Monday, September 23, an attack lasting an hour and a half was carried out by neroplanes and Zeppelins over the southeast coast and London. Fifteen persons were killed and seventy injured.

The following night two attempts to reach London were made by the Germans, but both times the raiders were driven off down the Thames estuary. Seven killed and twenty-six injured.
